What's the DEAL?

Gambling, like other addictions, (alcohol, tobacco & other drugs) evolve as you get older. The earlier you start, the worse it can get and the consequences WILL catch up. The legal gambling age, like that of alcohol consumption, is set for a reason: to protect you from getting too caught-up in the habit.

Problem gambling is behavior that can lead to a severe impulse control disorder which leaves an individual helpless to resist the urge to gamble. Like most addictions, this can eventually lead to distress and problems for the gambler and others.

What you have to understand is that no matter how much or whatever it is that you're betting on does NOT matter. Playing the game is the risk.

✱ As with adults, problem gambling among adolescents is associated with high rates of substance abuse, illegal activities, poor school performance, truancy, suicide, depression and deep feelings of unhappiness.

✱ According to the American Psychiatric Association, 10 to 15 percent of young people surveyed have significant gambling problems; 6 percent of the teens who have tried gambling have become pathological gamblers.

People with gambling problems often have distorted thinking including:

- ✱ Gambling is an easy way to earn money
- ✱ My gambling is under control
- ✱ I'm smart and I have a system to beat the odds
- ✱ Gambling is the solution to my problems.
- ✱ I can win the money back
- ✱ Borrowing to gamble is okay
- ✱ Stealing to gamble isn't really stealing
- ✱ The more I gamble the better chance I have to win

Signs of a Potential Problem Gambler:

- ☐ Gambling to escape boredom and loneliness
- ☐ Fantasizing that you can "get rich quick" by gambling
- ☐ Gambling to impress friends and others
- ☐ Friends and family members expressing concern about gambling
- ☐ Unexplained absences from school and sudden drop in grades
- ☐ Spending majority of money on gambling
- ☐ Getting in trouble with the law because of gambling
